

Non-Core Vocabulary in Ovid's Amores, Poem 9 abdūcō -dūcere -duxī -ductum: lead away, carry off

Achillēs -is m.: Achilles agilis -e: light, agile ambō -ae -ō: both

Andromachē -ēs f.: Andromache, the wife of Hector

Argēus -a -um: Argive, of Argos armō -āre: equip, arm

Atṛidēs -ae m.: son of Atreus, Agamemnon

Atticus -ī m.: Atticus bellus -a -um: pretty

Brīsēis -idis f.: Briseis, daughter of Brees caterva -ae f.: crowd, troop causor -ārī: plead, pretend, blame complexus -ūs m.: embrace congerō -gerere -gessī -gestum: gather together, collect; pile up

Cupīdō -inis m.: Cupid

dēpre(he)ndō -pre(he)ndere -pre(he)ndī -pre(he)nsum: catch, seize, trap dēsīdia -ae f.: idleness, inactivity dēsīdiōsus -a -um: slothful, idle, lazy discīnctus -a -um: wearing a tunic without a belt, wearing loose clothes; easygoing, undisciplined duplicō -āre: fold over; double

Eurus -ī m.: winds, Southwest wind eximō -imere -ēmī -ēemptum: take out, remove experiens -ntis: active, enterprising exterō -terere -trīvī -trītum: rub out, wear away fabrilis -e: skillfully made foris foris f.: door formōsus -a -um: shapely, beautiful fretum -ī n.: strait, (pl.) sea frīgus -oris n.: cold, coldness galea -ae f.: helmet

Hector -oris m.: Hector ignāvus -a -um: lazy, idle imber -ris m.: rain, shower impellō -pellere -pulī -pulsum: drive against, strike upon; set in motion inermis -e: unarmed, defenseless infestus -a -um: hostile, savage invādō -vādere -vāsī -vāsūm: attack, assault, fall upon lectus -ī m.: couch, bed

Maenas -adis f.: Maenad, priestess of Bacchus

Mārs Mārtis m.: Mars

mīlitō -āre: serve as a soldier mollīō mollīre mollīvī mollītum: make pliable, soften, weaken nempe: certainly nimbus -ī m.: rain-cloud, cloud-burst, downpour nix nivis f.: snow

nocturnus -a -um: by night, nocturnal obsideō -sidēre sēdī -sessum: sit down near, blockade, besiege obstō -stāre -stitī -stātūrum: stand before, obstruct, hinder perferō -ferre -tulī -lātum: carry through, deliver pervigilō -āre: keep vigil

Priamēis -idos f.: daughter of Priam, Cassandra requiēscō - quiēscere -quiēvī -quiētum: rest, repose resurgō -surgere -surrēxī -surrēctum: rise again, reappear

Rhēsus -ī m.: Rhesus rīvālis -is m.: rival

segnis -e: slow, slothful senīlis -e: of an old man, senile sōpiō sōpīre sōpīvī sōpītum: put to sleep, lull to sleep sopōrātus -a -um: lulled to sleep, asleep speculātor -ōris m.: as a spy strēnuus -a -um: brisk, prompt, vigorous summus -a -um: highest, uppermost; final

Thrēicius -a -um: Thracian

Trōs Trōis m.: Trojan, man of Troy tumidus -a -um: swollen ve: or, or if you will, or as you please; either...or

Venus -eris f.: Venus

verrō verrere verrī: sweep, sweep over, skim vigil -ilis m.: sentry, guard